Nota hic quod esse essentiae et existentiae [illegible] idem [illegible] ad sponte separari quod primo non habent tot essentia sine existentia. aut quo pacto gaudeat, seu essentia poterit separari sine existentia.

Rt. Dallemus quod est realis essentia realiter existens ad separatur ab existentia, sed est esse cognitum, quod habet esse in [illegible]biente, bene separatur ab existentia.

Sed hic creatio ad solvit, nec quomodo includit difficultatem, nam cum existentia in creaturis sit modus intrinsecus essentiae.
ex sua [illegible] proveniens. nullo modo poterit ab essentia separari atque ita in quocumque esse consideretur essentia, existentiam ut modum intrinsecum semper habebit.

Confirmatur, nam in quocumque esse essentia consideretur semper suam propriam passionem habet, ipsam realiter consequentem, quod fortior, cum modus intrinsecus passione sit intimior, in quocumque esse concipiatur essentia, semper existentiam ut modum intrinsecum habebit.

Rt. quod essentia et existentia multipliciter possunt considerari, primo conside-ratur essentia ut habet esse objectivum. 2° ut habet esse possibile tantum. 3° ut habet esse cognitum. primo et 2do consideratur praecise tantum totum [illegible] absolute [illegible]. illud est absolutum dicitur esse tantum quod, quia nihil reale ~~dicit~~ actu dicit.
3° consideratur non absolute, sed includit relationem [illegible] ad intellectum cognoscentem.

Ita existentia 3° [illegible] potest considerari, primo ut habet esse objecti-vum, 2° possibile, 3° in esse cognito, primis duobus modis accipitur existentia absolute et [illegible] eadem cum illa quae actu est, differt tamen ab illa, quia illa est in actu, haec autem in potentia. 3tio accipitur, ut includit relationem ad intellectum cognoscentem.

[illegible] Alia responsio [illegible] habemus [illegible] in [illegible] et ad in particulari [illegible]
[illegible] et confuso, et indistincte, et alia particularis [illegible] distincta [illegible] etc.

De rebus naturalibus datur scientia.

Probatur conclusio ex Arist. qui tradit scientiam de rebus naturalibus Probatur 2°, quia entia naturalia sunt entia intelligibilia utpote habentia partes, et passiones demonstrabiles de ipsis, ut patet in physica. haec autem requiruntur et sufficiunt ad hoc quod de aliquibus sit scientia. ut patet primo poster.

Notandum est, quod omne illud dicitur proprie naturale, quod habet in se naturam, ut habetur 2° Phys. tex. 3°. illud dicitur habere naturam quod habet in se materiam, vel formam, vel aliquid consequens materiam, et formam, quia natura dividitur in materiam, formam et compositum.

2° Notandum quod natura habet suam propriam passionem, quae est motus, ut ait Arist. 2° phys. natura est principium motus. per unam passionem devenimus in cognitionem rerum naturalium, et per res naturales intelligimus res mobiles. haec autem sunt animalia, Plantae, et eorum partes. similiter autem mineralia s. lapides, metalla, Elementa, et omnia corpora coelestia

3° Notandum est, quod scientia accipitur proprie, prout distinguitur contra alios habitus intellectuales. quia scientia proprie dicta est habitus conclusionis demonstratae ex propriis et necessariis principiis, et hoc habetur in 6° Ethic. et primo post.

Prima distinctio res naturales possunt 2r considerari vel in universali vel in particulari vel secundum esse essentiae, et quidditative s. pro quidditatibus abstrahentibus ab existentia, et ab omni accidente possunt ipsa existentia. alio modo secundum esse existentiae actualis, et habitualis, et secundum esse existentiae sunt corruptibiles et causa corruptionis, et ipsa movet materiam. de ipsis non est scientia, sed bene primo modo. quia in par

2a distinctio de rebus naturalibus esse scientiam potest intelligi dupliciter, vel tanquam de subiecto primo et adequato, vel tanquam de subiectis inadequatis secundariis vel attributis, ad unum tanquam subiectum adequatum reducibilibus ut ad corpus naturale et sic de ipsis est scientia, ut primo modo.

Scientia est de ~~obiecto~~ necessario, ut habetur p.o post. at

C. esse quidditativum et esse reale sunt idem, g.o si quo ad

R.r quod sunt idem realiter, differunt tamen quo ad esse

C. De rebus naturalibus non e definitio, g.o d ipsis n est scientia. patet sed res naturales non semper sunt. g.o R.r q.d res nales non semper sunt quo ad esse existentiae, vel quo ad numerum. sed semper sunt quo ad esse essentiae, vel quo ad speciem.

C. definitio est entis per se unius, sed res nales non sunt entia per se una, cum includant materiam, motum sensibilem et qualitates sensibiles. g.o R.r entia natlia esse unum stat v.r materiae vel formae, vel unitatis non sunt unum, quoniam continent plures entitates

C. scientia est ex necessarijs perpetuis et sempiternis, quae n oni, sunt in continuo fluxu, et reflexu, eorum esse ternae veritatis, in Phia aut multae fiunt propoes neces sariae de quibus est Phia.

l. generabilium, et corruptibilium n. est Phia, ut pt. p.o cap.
at res nates sunt generabiles et c. ergo.
R.o qd sunt generabiles quoad esse existentiae, n. quo dens in hoc .i. in isto singulari.

l. corruptibilitas est passio quae insequitur essentiam ergo res nates sunt corruptibiles quo ad esse essentiae.
R.o res nates quoad esse essentiae esse corruptibiles pot intelligi dupliciter, vel secundum actum, vel secundum aptitudinem, primo concedo, non aut 2.o
l. Nulla res nates pot esse obiectum alicuius cognitionis potentiae cognitivae, et per consequens potentia cognitiva nullas res nates cognoscere pot, et per consequens n. pot de eis esse Phia. probo antecedentem, inter obiectum et potentiam, ut vult Phus in 3.o de aia, debet esse aliqua proportio sed inter res nates, et potentiam cognitivam nulla est proportio, nam res nates sunt mates, potentia cognitiva immaterialis, ut latius videbitur ergo.

R.r Dicitur non natum, et intellectum nulla ē proportio magnitudinis, sive commensurationis, est tamen proportio vitalis transmutationis, ea ro quod tamen quantum res natis sunt, faciunt simulare intellectum, tamen intellectus sufficit imitari a rebus natibus.

C. De nullo ente nati possimus habere perfectam cognitionem, probo. De nullo ente nati possimus habere scientiam, tenet consequentia quia ex opposito sequitur oppositum. ant. prob. quia ad hoc quod de aliqua re habeatur perfecta cognitio, requiritur quod illa res cognoscatur quantum omnia predicata dicibilia de illa re, sed est impossibile, quod intellectus non cognoscat omnia predicata dicibilia de aliqua re, ergo etc. ergo non est res cognita totaliter ab intellectu nostro.

R.r quod duplex ē cognitio perfecta, quaedam perfecta simpliciter, quaedam in suo genere. cognitio perfecta simpliciter est illa quantum quam res cognoscitur quo ad omnia predicata dicibilia de tali re. cognitio perfecta in genere ē per quam res cognoscitur quantum aliqua predicata dicibilia dicenda de illa re, datur quod non quantum omnia supposita. de nullo ente nati possimus habere scientiam perfectam simpliciter, sed bene in suo genere.

Notandum quod entia natia sunt possibilia aliter se habere quantum ad evidentia separabilia, et tamen ista transmutantur, sed quantum ad predicata se habentia semper, quae de eis demonstrantur sunt impossibilia aliter se habere, ita quod conclusio quae de eis formatur est perfectae veritatis.

C. Res natis cum sint corruptibiles et mutabiles non possunt habere veritates. probo.

R.r quod singularia quatenus actualiter existunt non possunt habere veras [illegible] in esse [illegible] tamen habent de [illegible] et [illegible] in intellectu et hoc modo de illis ē scientia, quia intellectus facit universalem in rebus.

Vel potest r.r intellectus quomodo quatenus habet ortum a sensu [illegible] sensibili, et sic est corruptibilis, aliomodo quatenus abstrahitur a sensu per intellectum et sic ē incorruptibile.

Notandum quod de corruptibilibus non est scientia de illis quae actu corrumpuntur, non de illis, quae sunt in potentia ad corrumpendum, et sic de illis considerant plures.

Nota quod non definiuntur singularia, quo ad rationem singularitatis, sed quo ad ea, quae sunt in eis.

Nota [illegible] [illegible] considerari aut [illegible] ad [illegible] aut prout dicit actum [illegible] corruptibile [illegible] necessarium, [illegible] contingens, [illegible] sicut dicit actum videndi [illegible] convenit homini videre [illegible] audiendum [illegible] ad videndum [illegible] aliquod [illegible] et [illegible] [illegible] sua.

Nota [illegible] singulare potest definiri [illegible] [illegible] aliud [illegible] incidens [illegible] et [illegible] accidentia [illegible] accidens et contingens sic non definitur. aliud est singulare [illegible] accidentibus [illegible] definitur [illegible] definitione, quod definitio [illegible] non competit [illegible] sed [illegible] non primo.

C. De entis [illegible] identitas [illegible] [illegible] habere [illegible] ex [illegible] ex [illegible] diversorum [illegible] ens [illegible] ex [illegible] diversis [illegible] in [illegible] [illegible]

Materia [illegible] generabilis et incorruptibilis

[illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] generatur [illegible] [illegible] generatur, aut ex aliqua materia [illegible]
[illegible] [illegible] aut creatur ex nihilo [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] corrumperetur, aut corrumperetur in aliam materiam aut in nihilum quod est falsum [illegible].

[illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] generabile et corruptibile [illegible] modis [illegible] [illegible] [illegible], [illegible] subiective, primo et compositum [illegible] [illegible] quod est generabile et corruptibile obiective [illegible] [illegible] forma generabilis et corruptibilis, [illegible] [illegible] est [illegible] materia generabilis et corruptibilis.

[illegible] [illegible] [illegible] quod [illegible] formaliter et obiective est generabilis et incorruptibilis ex [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] est generabilis et corruptibilis.

[illegible] [illegible] generari et corrumpi subiective [illegible]
[illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] subiective.

Obiicitur [illegible] non [illegible] [illegible] generari vel corrumpi [illegible]
[illegible] [illegible] materiam [illegible] [illegible] in generatione, et corruptione

[illegible] quod [illegible] [illegible] et incorruptibile [illegible] [illegible]
[illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] corruptibile [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] per resolutionem in suas partes [illegible] [illegible] partibus remanentibus, [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]
[illegible] [illegible] [illegible] in suas partes, omnibus [illegible]
[illegible] [illegible] [illegible] quod [illegible] resolvitur [illegible] aliquid eius [illegible] [illegible] [illegible], sed annihilatur [illegible]
[illegible] forma remaneat [illegible] eius [illegible] subiectivum [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] corruptio appropinquatur annihilationi materia non est [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] quia [illegible] corruptio [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] omnibus eius partibus remanentibus. [illegible]
[illegible] in [illegible] [illegible] quia nulla pars eius [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] annihilari.

Contra [illegible]

C. 2° Materia est ingenerabilis et incorruptibilis, [illegible] est ingenerabilis et c.

R. [illegible] non omne ingenerabile et incorruptibile [illegible], sed [illegible] quod [illegible] totum [illegible] ingenerabile, et incorruptibile [illegible] omni principio; materia [illegible] licet non habeat principium temporis habet tamen principium causae, [illegible] a Deo [illegible] causa prima. Deus autem est omni [illegible]

C. Est [illegible] quod [illegible] talia, [illegible] sed propter [illegible] sunt ingenerabilis et [illegible] magis ingenerabilis et corruptibilis materia.

R. [illegible] non valet [illegible] in [illegible] corruptibilis [illegible] prime [illegible] corruptibilis [illegible] materia autem est ingenerabilis et corruptibilis [illegible] non valet [illegible]

C. [illegible] alterationis [illegible] alterationem, sic [illegible] habet [illegible] generationis ad generationem, [illegible] alterationis est [illegible] generationis [illegible] ingenerabile, et [illegible] generationis [illegible]

R. [illegible] alterationis [illegible] alteratur [illegible] ita [illegible] ingenerabilis [illegible]

C. Generatio definitur in libro [illegible] generatione, quod sit mutatio [illegible] in totum nullo [illegible] remanente, sed [illegible] ingenerabilis, et incorruptibilis in generatione non [illegible] totum in totum, ergo [illegible]

R. [illegible] in definitione [illegible] quod debet [illegible] mutatio [illegible] in totum [illegible] totum [illegible] compositum [illegible] omnes et singulas partes [illegible] aliquid [illegible] compositum [illegible] compositum [illegible] mutatur [illegible] materia remanet [illegible] ingenerabilis, et incorruptibilis [illegible] hoc est quod [illegible] dicunt [illegible] in generatione fit mutatio totius cathegorematice in totum cathegorematicum non [illegible] totum sincathegorematicum.

quod fit in perfectius pot est et in minus perfectum; sed agens natle pot generare, et corrumpere compositum quod est per-fectius, ergo multo magis pot generare et corrumpere mam primam quae est minus perfecta.

R. maior probata non est, maior vera est quia illud quod est maius potest et minus, qa homo pot hom generare, non tamen pot an[illegible] [illegible] generare; minor ergo concluditur [illegible] agens nat(ura)le non pot generare, vel corrumpere mam quia illam [illegible] supponerent.

quod est a Deo productum incorruptibile, sed ma pa est a Deo producta ergo incorruptibilis.

R. [illegible] maior [illegible] supernaturaliter, et divina
[illegible] naturaliter et [illegible] loquendo, [illegible] [illegible] et incorruptibilis, nisi natura pot [illegible] corrumpi illam per annihilationem.

omne contrarium pot corrumpi a contrario ex po de generatione et [illegible] generans, sed ma habet contrarium, ergo ab illo pot corrumpi. minor prob(atur) qa [illegible] patitur, [illegible] tione mam patitur [illegible] forma agit ex 2o de generatione. sed agens et pati sunt contraria, ergo ma et forma sunt contraria.

R. [illegible] agens et pati sint contraria. [illegible] forma et forma sint contraria qa non [illegible] in eodem subiecto [illegible] quanta [illegible]. [illegible] dicas quod sunt contraria [illegible]

compositum generatur et corrumpitur natr, ergo [illegible] [illegible] ex [illegible] idem habent esse et [illegible] [illegible] ipsum totum compositum, sed quod per generationem compositum habet esse et per corruptionem [illegible] esse, ergo et ma ut pars compositi.

[illegible] compositi [illegible] partibus aliquo modo idem habere esse [illegible] compositum et [illegible] [illegible] quantum ad entitates proprias quas habent [illegible] ab [illegible] compositi [illegible] propria [illegible] in corruptibilis, [illegible]

C. quando aliquid generatur ex alio illud aliud corrumpitur ergo generatio unius est corruptio alterius, ex p° de generatione sed res naturales generantur ex materia, ex p° physicorum, ergo materia corrumpitur et per consequens potest generari.

R. generari aliquid ex alio stat dupliciter, vel sicut ex subiecto vel sicut ex opposito ex p° physicorum, cum ergo dicitur unum generatur ex alio, illud corrumpitur, [illegible], vel dicit habitudinem ad subiectum, et sic est falsa propositio, vel dicit habitudinem ad oppositum et sic est vera et hoc modo est intelligendum illud generatio unius compositi est corruptio alterius materia autem non est oppositum, sed subiectum in generatione.

Vel dicitur quod illa propositio generatio unius et c. in generationibus [illegible] vera formaliter, quia unum est privativum [illegible] positivum, sed est vera communiter. hanc glossam [illegible]
Ioan. [illegible] in p° post. [illegible]

Nota hanc subtilem distinctionem materiam esse generabilem et corruptibilem [illegible] intellectu, vel [illegible] hoc, vel [illegible] modo non [illegible] modo [illegible] in composito, [illegible] ut compositum esse ut terminus.

Et est advertendum quod licet materia sit ingenerabilis, et incorruptibilis, tamen est causa generabilitatis, et corruptibilitatis utriusque, scilicet ex materia corruptibilium, nam ut ait Arist. 1° phys. materia est ex qua res est, vel non est, [illegible] materia appetit formam, et adventum unius formae, alterius forma [illegible] corrumpitur, unde est quod materiae [illegible] appetitum est causa quod unum compositum corrumpitur et aliud generatur.
